Jodi Granok, MSW is a professional organizer, productivity consultant, and speaker based in St. Louis, Missouri. In 2008, she founded Organizing Magic, LLC - which works with overwhelmed people locally and virtually to get their homes, offices, and lives organized.

Jodi is a member of both the National Association of Productivity and Organizing Professionals (NAPO) and the St. Louis Chapter of NAPO. She is a member of NAPO's Golden Circle and has achieved all six of NAPO's Specialist Certificates in Brain-Based Conditions, Household Management, Life Transitions, Residential Organizing, Team Productivity, and Workplace Productivity. Jodi served on NAPO's National Board of Directors from 2011-2016 and is the current Director of Communications & Technology for NAPO-St. Louis.

Through speeches and workshops both in-person and online, Jodi's humor, enthusiasm, and common-sense approach have motivated audiences to put her tips and tricks to work, to get organized and stay organized!

Make Your Next Group Meeting "Magical!"

In this economy, everybody is looking for ways to stretch their dollar. Did you know that getting organized saves time and money? Sounds great - but lots of people get stuck on how to get started with an organizing project.

Jodi has a variety of organizing presentations for both adults and students. Sample topics include:

- From Overwhelmed to Organized! (how to manage your "stuff", paper, and time)
- Office Organization (how to organize your office space, paperwork, and e-mails; time management skills)
- Organizing and Downsizing
- Manage the Mail and other Paper Problems
- Survive and Succeed at Secondary School (organizing paperwork, backpacks, and lockers; time management skills)
- Conquer Your Kitchen Clutter
- Tackle the Toy Situation
- Less Holiday Stress, More Holiday Joy!

...and many more!

Who Benefits from Organizing Magic Presentations?
